- a) Strengthening individuals' rights:
  - Restricted definition of consent (+ consent of a parent for a child under the age of 16);
  - Right to data portability;
  - Right to erasure (RTBF);
  - Right to get informed in case of a data breach;

b) Controller & processor:

 Accountability: the GDPR introduces a legal accountability obligation; the controller & the processor will be responsible for its implementation (prior formalities like notifications and authorisations will be strongly limited);

Risk based approach!

– More obligations for processors: new obligations as regards security, confidentiality, accountability, advice to the controller in order for the controller to be compliant with certain obligations + new conditions for the engagement of a sub-processor.

c) New concepts:

Data Protection Officer (DPO)

Notification of a data breach to the national authority

Data Protection Impact Assessment (DPIA)

Codes of conduct, Certification

Record of processing activities

Privacy by design  $\Leftrightarrow$  Privacy by default

Enhanced security measures

 The GDPR applies not only to EU based controllers and processors, but also to controllers and processors offering goods and/or services to EU residents or if the behaviour of individuals within the EU is monitored;

1. Get informed about the upcoming changes 6/11

- e) The "one stop shop" and a stronger European cooperation:
  - One single point of contact for companies → the place of the main establishment of the company will determine which national authority will be the "lead authority". The main establishment will be either the place of the central administration in the EU, or the place where decisions on the purposes and means of the data processing are made.
  - Stronger cooperation between European authorities, so that companies receive one binding decision based on a consensus between all the concerned authorities.

1. Get informed about the upcoming changes 7/11

- f) Complaints and administrative fines:
  - Complaints: can be lodged with the supervisory authority of the habitual residence or place of work of the data subject, or of the place of the alleged infringement
  - Administrative fines: imposed by the competent supervisory authority in addition to or instead of other corrective powers

Fines can reach a maximum of 20,000,000 EUR or, for companies, of up to 4% of the total worldwide turnover.

Key questions:

7 steps to prepare for compliance

1. Get informed about the upcoming changes

2. Identify your data processing activities

3. Designate a data protection officer (if applicable)

6. Organise internal processes

7. Document compliance

5. Identify and manage risks

3. Designate a data protection officer (if applicable) 1/3

A data protection officer will be mandatory after 25 May 2018 if :

 Undertaking fulfilling certain criteria (e.g. large scale processing of sensitive data)

3. Designate a data protection officer (if applicable) 2/3 Role?

Inform, advise, control and monitor internally and contact point for the supervisory authority.

Major advantage for:

- compliance with the GDPR obligations,
- communication with supervisory authorities,
- reducing the risk of litigation and liability.

3. Designate a data protection officer (if applicable) 3/3

Is there a pilot on board?

Prevention is better:

Designate as of now an internal or external person responsible for data protection.

4. Establish an action plan 1/3

Key issues:

- Use only data that is strictly necessary;
- Identify the legal basis on which the data is processed:
  - Consent of the data subject;
  - Necessary for the performance of a contract;
  - Legal obligation;
  - Necessary to protect vital interests;
  - Task of public interest/ Exercise of official authority;
  - Legitimate interest;

4. Establish an action plan 2/3

Key issues:

- Review your information notices;
- Remember your processors: review all the contracts with your processors;
- Lay down the procedures for the exercise of the rights of data subjects (e.g. internal procedure on how to deal with a data subject's request for rectification or access);
- Check your security measures.

4. Establish an action plan 3/3

Particular focus on:

 Sensitive data (health, political opinion, union membership, criminal offence...);

- Specific data processing surveillance, profiling ...);
- (large-scale

Data transfers outside the EU.

5. Identify and manage risks

If data processing activities are likely to result in a high risk to the rights and freedoms of data subjects

The controller needs to carry out an assessment of the impact of the envisaged processing operations on the protection of personal data, to evaluate the risks (Data Protection Impact Assessment - DPIA)

6. Organise internal processes

7. Document compliance

5. Identify and manage risks

4. Establish an action plan

6. Organise internal processes 1/5

Set up internal processes to anticipate requests and problems in relation to data processing

Example:

A data subject makes a request for rectification of personal data

- → If you have a website, create an online form that can be used for such requests;
- → Designate the persons responsible internally who will deal with such requests;
- → Who will make the decisions? Rectification and/or reply to the data subject?

6. Organise internal processes 2/5

Organising internal processes requires :

- Taking into account the principle of data protection by design and by default;
- Raising awareness among employees and organising internal reporting;
- Dealing with complaints and requests from data subjects in relation to their rights;
- Anticipating potential data breaches.

6. Organise internal processes 3/5

Data protection by design: the "what"

Proactivity vs reactivity

Integrate the procedures in the products, services, processes

Practice: Put yourself in the position of the user End-to-end security perspective

Make requests from data subjects possible Integrate the result of the DPIA

Transparency and visibility

'Lessons learned' from a data breach

6. Organise internal processes 4/5

Data protection by design

Data protection by default

6. Organise internal processes 5/5

Main objectives:

- Develop a data protection friendly culture;
- Anticipate the risks and possible issues;
- Develop secure data management throughout the entire life cycle of the data;
- Be transparent and inform the public about their rights.

2. Identify your data processing activities

3. Designate a data protection officer (if applicable)

6. Organise internal processes

5. Identify and manage risks

4. Establish an action plan

7. Document compliance

7. Document compliance 1/3

Obligation to prove your compliance

Through documents and internal procedures that need to be re-examined and updated regularly.

7. Document compliance 2/3

Documentation relating to your processing activities:

- The record of processing activities (for controllers) or categories of processing activities (for processors);
- The data protection impact assessments carried out for the processing activities which are likely to result in high risks for the rights + freedoms of data subjects;
- The framework for transfers of personal data outside the EU (in particular standard data protection clauses, BCR and certification mechanisms);
- The record of all personal data breaches, which must set out the consequences of the breach as well as the remedial action taken.

Interaction with data subjects:

- The information to the data subjects;
- The manner in which the consent of the data subject is obtained;
- The procedures in place to enable data subjects to exercise their rights.

Contracts and other documentation:

- The contracts with processors;
- The internal procedures in the event of a data breach;
- The evidence that data subjects have given their consent, if consent is the lawful condition for processing.

7. Document compliance 3/3

Do not forget to document the data flows:

- Contracts with processors;
- Contracts with third parties for the re-use of data;
- Documents that prove the compliance of external users of your data.
